SPECIAL COLLECTION FOR VICTIMS OF HURRICANE

— Archbishop Jose H. Gomez, vice president of the USCCB has asked for a special collection to held this Sunday (Sept. 10) for the Victims of Hurricane Harvey. Funds given to the collection will support the humanitarian and recovery efforts of Catholic Charities USA and will provide pastoral and rebuilding support to impacted dioceses through the USCCB. The USCCB is working closely with affected local dioceses, Catholic Charities USA and St. Vincent de Paul, along with other relief organizations, to assess the needs on the ground. "Our hearts and prayers go out to the families that have lost loved ones and to all who have lost homes and businesses along with their sense of peace and normalcy," said Archbishop Gomez. "Our prayer and financial support is urgently needed. Please be generous this Sunday, Sept. 10th.

TASTE OF CREOLE

— Please get your tickets after Mass if you have not already done so. We are asking each family to sell 6 tickets. Please remember that Food sign up sheets will also be available after Mass each Sunday and continue every Sunday until October 15, 2017. We need your help for this event to be successful. Thank you. —The Fundraising Committee

GOSPEL REFLECTION FOR SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 2017

A young mother would always shout at her daughter whenever she commits mistake. This was her behavior until her child grew up, eventually the child learned to answer back. Thus, whenever the mother would shout at her, she would shout at her also to reciprocate the insult. When the daughter grew up she became aloof and distant toward her mother.

What is the importance of having a one on one talk with someone who offended you or someone who is at fault? You signify your sincerity to sincerely correct the person who is at fault. And you send a message that you want to immediately contain and solve the problem without offending anyone. By doing so you create a sincere message that you want to build bridges and not walls.

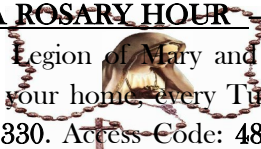

Many of us commit the mistake of correcting a person in-front of a crowd but this will not help heal a wayward behavior. This would only create a deeper emotional injury to the person who is at fault. So, instead of bringing him/her closer to healing and reconciliation we instead are creating a wedge that may permanently injure the person.

This teaching of Jesus on how to privately correct a person is very useful for all of us. For the reason that there are times that we let ourselves be taken over by our arrogance rather than our kindness and gentleness. What is the use of power if it will only divide and create further emotional injury? What is the use of correcting a person in full view of the public if it will only create a deep seated feeling of hatred?

The way of Jesus in solving conflict is always the way of diplomacy, fraternal correction and gentleness. Never through arrogance to propel one's power and influence.
