REFLECTIONS — SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME — JAN. 14, 2018

What are you looking for in this world? Are you looking for popularity and riches? Are you looking for power and influence? What are you looking for?

We look for so many things in this world to find our happiness and those things that would satisfy us. Only to find out later that it couldn't satisfy us, so we look again and again. And it seems that the looking for mantra seems endless.

Why? For the simple reason that we are looking for the wrong things that will not satisfy us and give us contentment. For example, can money, power and other earthly things satisfy us? These worldly things will never satisfy us and it will never give us peace and contentment.

In this Sunday's gospel, Andrew and Simon Peter were looking for something that would not only give them peace and contentment. They were looking for something that would complete both of them and they found it in Jesus.

Therefore, when Jesus saw the two of them, He said: "What are you looking for?" They said to him, "Rabbi" (which translated means Teacher), "where are you staying?" He said to them, "Come, and you will see." So they went and saw where he was staying, and they stayed with him that day. (John 1:38-39)

If you want to finally find that elusive peace and contentment and if you want someone who will protect you from all the worries of this world. You only need to look for Jesus you will certainly find Him if you will look for Him.

Are you looking for Jesus in your life right now?
